

Chapter 7 Foreshadowing

Focus for Reading: Read to understand all of the incidents in this chapter and to predict how these incidents and conversations may have an impact on the rest of the novel—more foreshadowing:

Incidents:

1. Stacey gives his coat to T.J. and is reprimanded for doing so (pp. 140-143). Why is giving his coat to T.J. such a big deal?
2. Mr. Morrison tells a story from his childhood (pp. 147-150). Why does the author include this story? What information is she trying to get across to readers?
3. Jeremy brings Stacey a flute he has carved (pp. 154-158). What is Papa's advice to Stacey about a friendship with Jeremy?
4. Mr. Jamison, the lawyer, arrives with gifts and papers for Papa and Uncle Hammer to sign (pp. 159-165). What offer does Mr. Jamison make? When Papa responds to Mr. Jamison on page 164-5, he is saying that what they are doing by standing up to Granger and the Wallaces is the right thing to do. Why does Papa think this is the right thing to do?
5. Mr. Harlan Granger pays the family a visit and makes veiled threats trying to stop the boycott, but Papa stands up to him (pp. 167-170). What might this mean for the Logan family and their land?
